

ARREST 'BIG TIM' MURPHY AS MAIL ROBBER

CITY TO PUT IN CONCRETE STREETS; FIRST IN HISTORY
COUNCIL UNANIMOUSLY VOTES FOR 11 BLOCKS OF CEMENT.
IN NEW DISTRICT
Racine, Blackhawk and Other Streets in Modern Housing Tract Are Included.

Janesville will put in concrete paving for the first time in its history as a result of Ald. Walter Helms' resolution passed unanimously by the council Monday night directing the board of public works to prepare a schedule of benefits and damages for paving with cement in the newly built up area around Racine street. The program calls for the paving of 11 blocks with one course reinforced concrete on streets which previously had been ordered paved with sheet asphalt.

The action follows a row two weeks ago over the merits of concrete as against asphalt and receipt of a petition from property owners in Blackhawk and Valley View additions asking for the former type of paving. After action on highway matters, including piling and repairs, was taken Monday night by the council.

With the exception of the ribbon of concrete laid by the county in the middle of Center avenue to a point near Western avenue, Janesville has no cement streets. There are two blocks of concrete on a private thoroughfare, the Starnes company, industrial avenue, put in two years ago.

Following are the streets to be paved with concrete, in addition to Hickory and oak streets included in the cement program earlier in the season:
Racine—Logan to Fremont, 3 blocks.
Fremont—Racine to Sharon, 5 blocks.
Blackhawk—Clark to Racine, 1 block.
Clark—Fremont to Blackhawk, 1 block.
Hawthorne—Fremont to Randall, 1 block.
There was no discussion of the resolutions as put through Monday night. The council will have to take action on the paving of the streets in the new housing tract, which was approved by the city engineer, C. V. Kerch. The plans call for new streets, extensions and repairs of sewer, water and gas mains and laterals on Glen street, from Bluff to Hickory, and on Hickory, from Glen to Denton. Both of these streets are to be paved with concrete. The gravel to be furnished free by the Janesville Sand & Gravel company. The order calls for the work to be done by the property owners, but it is not to be done until a certain date, to be done by the city and charged up as a special assessment. "This is the way it is usually done."

More Oil Is Ordered.
More reads were ordered to the 1921 oiling program after Ald. J. J. Dulin had made some lengthy resolutions, as follows: Terrace, Bluff to Mineral Point; Main, Jackson to Academy; Mineral Point, Jackson to Racine; Racine, Pleasant to Holmes; North Wisconsin, Milwaukee to Prospect; Pearl, West Bluff to Racine; Dodge, Franklin to Jackson.
After these had been read, City Engineer Kerch, for ordering a carload of oil last year that was too thick to spread on the streets, Alderman Dulin asked why the oil wasn't here for the streets already ordered treated this year.

"It was ordered two weeks ago but hasn't arrived," said Mr. Kerch.
The city engineer, Mr. Kerch, said that the city was directed to improve Pleasant street, from Franklin to Five Points, and Locust, from School to Western avenue, by repaving and oiling. A resolution had been received for repaving of one and oiling of the other. A protest against oiling was also received, so it was thought more advisable to repave the streets.
Ald. John C. Emery, through a motion for the street commissioner to build a brick crosswalk across Olive street on the west side of Madison street in the First ward.

Croker. Ex-Tammany Leader, to Fight Suit

Richard and Mrs. Croker, photographed on their arrival in New York.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
New York—Short of his beard, brisk in speech and movement and looking younger than he did when he sailed for Europe last summer, Richard Croker has arrived to attend to those boys, referring to his sons.
Mrs. Croker accompanied the former leader of Tammany Hall, Croker, who has been summoned by his lawyers who had notified him that his presence was needed as the suit brought by his sons, seeking to discredit him as not being able to handle his estate and claiming that he was unduly influenced by his wife, the former Indian princess, was to be continued.

"I came here rather unexpectedly," said Croker, "and just because of those foolish friends of mine I have had to come over to attend to those boys, and I really don't know how long they'll be here. I don't know how long they'll be here. I don't know how long they'll be here."

SEE BATTLE OVER PEACE MEASURES

Failure of Senate to Concur Would Send Whole Matter to Conference.
Washington—Whether the senate will accept the Porter peace resolution passed last Monday by the house as a substitute for the Knox resolution, already adopted by the senate, was an uncertain question Tuesday.

Failure to accept would send the whole question to conference but, as leaders have declared their intention of holding out for their respective measures, there was no indication a speedy agreement would be reported.
Adoption of the Porter resolution, which would determine the state of war with Germany and Austria-Hungary, came after two days of hard fighting, but the vote was decisive of 49 Democrats joining the republicans for a total of 350 votes in favor of, as against 61 opposing. Only one republican, Kelley of Michigan, voted against the resolution. The Porter resolution differs from the Knox resolution in that it would repeal the declaration of war. Opponents have claimed that congress ought not to repeal the war as it might be regarded as a repudiation of the war itself. Debate on the Porter resolution centered chiefly about the question of whether American rights would be properly safeguarded.

The house was adjourned until Wednesday.

A. F. L. WARNED TO AVOID MIXING IN IRISH QUESTION

CAN'T SOLVE PROBLEM, SAYS BRITISH LABOR LEADER.
BREACH FEARED
Attempts Under Way to Satisfy Extreme and Conservative Groups.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Denver—Warning against any agitation that might disrupt the American labor movement, James H. Thomas, British labor leader, told the American Federation of Labor convention Tuesday that it could not solve the Irish problem.

Efforts to prevent a widening of the breach between the two factions of the Irish sympathizers among the delegates was being made Tuesday.

Advocates of Irish freedom have appealed to the delegates to draft resolutions satisfactory to both the extreme and conservative groups of Irish sympathizers.
When this committee started work, a third secretary of the labor bureau of the American committee of Irish independence, served notice that two official resolutions on the Irish problem must be incorporated in their resolution.
The "official resolutions" called for a boycott not only on British goods but on all products made by British capital and the boycott of British insurance companies and similar firms. Appointment of a committee of three by the federation, to co-operate with the British trade union movement, was also included in the English government to recognize Irish independence and withdraw troops from Ireland also was asked.

A large faction of delegates have announced opposition to the "official resolutions" and have presented to the committee a resolution demanding recognition of the Irish republic by the United States, withdrawal of British troops from Ireland, and repayment by England of the $9,000,000 loan made to her by the United States.

BIG CROWD TURNS OUT FOR PICNIC

Community Rally at Milton Today One of Biggest in County History.
Rain during the morning failed to stop or interfere with the Rock County Farm Bureau picnic being held in the Milton village park Tuesday. More than 1,000 gathered for the picnic, lunch and additional people came early in the afternoon for the speaking program and the sport schedule.

Marketing of farm products was the paramount topic of the Farm Bureau speakers. Farmers were urged to concentrate to develop proper agencies for selling farm products for profit.
C. W. Coverdale, secretary of the National Farm Bureau organization, detailed the needs of farmers being marketed to further agricultural interests. The importance of the farm and the farmer to the welfare of the state and nation was emphasized by both Coverdale and Chris Schroder, secretary of the Wisconsin federation.

"Marketing is the big issue with the farmers of today," said Secretary Coverdale. "There is no profit in producing unless you can sell at a profit, what do you produce? We are out to change the national system of distribution with the net result of the farmer getting a fair price for his products from the producer to the consumer."

"You farmers are entitled to profits that now go to the non-producing man and yet you realize that money that the farmer on material raised and developed by the agriculture interests. The farmer has the problem to eliminate the food gambler, speculator and agencies who raise the price to the detriment of the producer and the consumer. They are entitled to their share."

The farm celebration was staged in the pretty Milton village park.

Mayor Welsh Pleads for Economy; Legion Asks Memorial Taxes

Legion asking that some action be taken toward providing a community building as a city war memorial. Upon motion of Ald. A. F. Gibbons, the petition was laid over two weeks for investigation.
The legion letter called attention to the law passed by the legislature in 1919 allowing cities to levy a special tax of 5 mills on the dollar for the building war memorials. Thus, on property assessed at $5,000, the taxpayer would pay $25 and provision could be made to have this spread over a period of five years. It was requested that the city take action on the building war memorial. The legion also wants to do something for its heroes—why not combine the two, was the request.

The Wisconsin Telephone company will take over the Rock County Telephone company in the shortest possible time.
Next step in the details will be the submission of a united application by both companies to the United States Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington for approval of the merger. This will be done this week, according to M. P. Richardson, attorney for the Rock County Telephone company.
The merger will be the first telephone case to come before the interstate body, states Mr. Richardson, under a new ruling which takes such matters out of the hands of the state general. This may delay the matter slightly, he said, but he declared that he expects it will be rushed through the commission as rapidly as possible.

Council Favors Large Viaduct Plan in 1924

Elimination of grade crossing dangers, one of Janesville's biggest problems, came to a showdown at the council meeting Monday night with the result that it was voted 9 to 3 to go on record as favoring a $350,000 viaduct and pedestrian subway project, work to start after January 1, 1924.

Discussion of the big proposal which lasted for more than an hour was featured by sharp debate and rebuttal, the leading name being taken by Mayor T. E. Welsh, Aldermen J. K. Jensen, J. J. Dulin, L. D. Morn, John C. Harlow and A. J. Gibbons, and M. O. Mount, the latter named as chairman of the First Ward Citizens' committee.

Here is the plan as finally agreed upon in Alderman Jensen's motion: That the council go on record as favoring:
First—Building a concrete viaduct extending from the intersection of West Wisconsin street and Academy street across the railroad tracks to the intersection of Madison and West Bluff streets.

Second—Closing Academy street to traffic, and providing a pedestrian subway under each crossing.
Third—Work to be deferred to some time subsequent to January 1, 1924, on account of the heavy bonded indebtedness of the city at this time.

The dissolving vote was cast by Aldermen Dulin, Kelly and Sheridan. "I will never agree to closing Academy street," said Mr. Dulin.

CONFESSES PART IN $350,000 MAIL THEFT, ASSERTION

LABOR LEADER IMPLICATED IN SENSATIONAL CHICAGO CRIME.
EIGHT ARE HELD
Arrest Follows Raid on Home; Mystery Cleared Up, Say Police.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Chicago.—Timothy (Tim) Murphy, prominent labor leader and former member of the state legislature, is alleged to have confessed Tuesday, according to postal authorities, that he was implicated in the $350,000 mail robbery at the Dearborn street station several months ago.

Murphy's arrest and alleged confession followed a raid Monday night on the home of his father-in-law, William Diggs, when $88,000 in Liberty bonds and $14,300 in cash was found in a trunk.
Vincent Cosmano, Murphy's lieutenant, was detained for questioning. Murphy's arrest is said to have been due to an alleged confession obtained from Philip Tetel, a railway mail clerk who is said to have admitted he received $11,000 as his share of the robbery.

The Dearborn station mail robbery occurred April 6. Five men engaged in a game of baseball in a lot near the station until a truck drove up with mail. While four men covered the clerks, the fifth took the mail bags.
Murphy is said to have admitted in his alleged confession that he acted as receiver for the stolen bonds and currency.

Murphy and Cosmano were arrested several weeks ago, charged with planning the $350,000 mail robbery at Pullman, Ill., which was under $200,000 bonds in that case when re-arrested Monday night. They have figured in other police cases. A year ago they spent several months in jail awaiting trial for the robbery of a mail train at Elmhurst, Ill., when the state's principal witnesses disappeared the case was dropped.

With the arrest of Paul Beland, the grocer and waiter in his home of $10,000 in new bills, department of justice agents and police say the big mail robbery at the Dearborn street station is practically cleared up. The men in custody, including Murphy, are being held in the Dearborn street station.

LAWRENCE TELLS OF PEACE STEPS

After the Peace Resolution Must Come Diplomatic Relations.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
Copyright 1921, by Janesville Gazette.
Washington.—First steps toward the making of a treaty of peace between the United States and Germany will be taken immediately after Congress passes the Knox-Porter resolution, officially today. Until the congressional resolution is out of the way, international relations cannot be begun.

The resolution itself does not do so much as to establish peace with Germany. This fact is recognized by the president and his associates. They believe, however, that when a Congress passes the resolution, a certain psychological effect will have been attained because so far as domestic laws are concerned, the phrases "duration of the war" and the present emergency, used in so many statutes will have been wiped out of the law books.

Another Step to Take.
Mr. Harding realizes that the peace resolution is only the first step in the way and that he must then negotiate a treaty which will establish diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany. The executive branch of the government is not in a position to move in that direction until Congress has expressed itself. Now with the prospect of an early passage of the Knox-Porter resolution, Mr. Harding feels that the responsibility for the next step is upon him. He has indicated that he will not delay action in response to an inquiry as to whether the treaty which would be used as a basis for peace-making with the Central Powers, it was significantly pointed out, that the president made in his address to Congress, namely, that it might be wiser to "engage under the existing treaty" than to attempt a new treaty with Germany.

Dealing With Allies.
The truth of the matter, as explained at the department of state, is that the United States is not dealing with Germany at all. It is dealing with the allies. Germany signs the treaty but having given away all her rights to the allies, the latter must say whether the provisions of the new treaty with Germany are satisfactory. And it is the purpose of the American government to write the kind of treaty that will bring harmony rather than discord to the ranks of the allies.

The practical problem of making the Versailles treaty effective as between the United States and Germany is one that Secretary Hughes has been working on since the treaty was signed. There have been opportunities for the United States government to find out how the allies viewed the matter and the attitude of the great powers is one of expectancy and hope that America will find it possible to attach her signature to the Versailles treaty even though a number of reservations or modifications may be made. The French, for instance, placed great weight upon the moral value of America's signature to the Versailles pact because of the effect such a move would have upon Germany where there still lingers the United States will part company with the allies and make a separate treaty with Berlin.

Preserving Our Status.
Another reason for using the Versailles pact instead of a new treaty has to do with preserving America's status in the Supreme Council. That organization was formed during the war and it is the purpose of the Supreme Council to canvas sentiment with respect to disarmament. If America made a separate treaty and dissociated herself from the allies, she would no longer have a valid claim to membership in that Supreme Council. And since it is Mr. Harding's intention to eliminate American participation in these causes of the treaty covering the League of Nations, the United States would have no voice in the council of the league itself which is a somewhat larger body than the Supreme Council. Indeed if America had joined the League of Nations, the Supreme Council would have vanished entirely as all members of that organization are represented on the council of the League of Nations.

Revising Supreme Council.
It was when Lloyd George saw the status of the League of Nations made uncertain because of America's hesitation to join that he suddenly revived the Supreme Council. The French concurred in the movement and it is the Supreme Council which will be Europe today. President Harding has made it clear that one of the principal objects of his foreign policy will be to establish close intercourse with other nations by personal conferences. The Supreme Council affords such an opportunity and it is a safe prediction that the form of America's new treaty with Germany or rather the reservations to the Versailles treaty will be discussed informally in the Supreme Council and the approval of the powers obtained before the revised pact is submitted to the American senate.

URGELIGHTS FOR BOATS USED NIGHTS

Launch Club Seeks to Go Through 1921 Season Without Accident.

Plan Many Improvements

With Rock river north of Janesville being used as a place of recreation this year by more people than ever before, it is planned to make extensive improvements. The channel is to be widened and stumps are to be cleared away. A heavy cable will be stretched across Fourth avenue bridge this week as a lifeguard in case a boat should drift toward the dam.
Work was started this week under the direction of Commodore Harper in filling in the washed out place around the dock on the east side just above the Fourth avenue bridge. The city has provided 1100 to aid in carrying out the 1921 program. Mr. Harper and his assistants expect to be all this week in getting things in shape.

Law Requires Lights

The state law requires that all boats propelled in whole or part by any kind of motor power be equipped with lights on the bow and stern, and that they be illuminated when the boat is operating one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise.
Although there appears to be no provision in the law covering the lighting of canoes, rowboats and other hand-propelled vessels, the appeal is made that owners of this kind of craft carry at least one light.

"We want to go through the summer without a single mishap," said Commodore Harper. "With a little co-operation on the part of all boat owners we can do it. If we put together we can make the launch club a real organization in the city—like it was several years ago. If vessels are only kept lit when operating at night there will be much less danger of collisions."

Boat Is Popular

The popularity of Rock river around Janesville appears to be growing, judging from the hundreds seen fishing, swimming and boating on it Sunday, and hundreds more along the shores. It is claimed that more people are enjoying the river this year than ever before. Many of them are unfamiliar with the stream and it is for this reason that the launch club is making special efforts to make the channel safe.

How to Build Up a Fortune by Systematic Investment

REGULAR, systematic saving and sound investment are the roots of most large fortunes. By laying aside a comparatively small amount of money each week or each month, every man may build up a comfortable fortune. For example, $10 a week, saved regularly and invested safely at 6%, will amount to $20,000 in a little over 20 years.

Study the following table, which vividly shows how small sums mount up into comparatively large ones in this way:

MANY SHEEP AND FEW GOATS HERE

Wisconsin Among the Leaders of States in Growing Wool.

Wisconsin leads in the raising of milk cows and also is well up in the front in the raising of sheep. While the state cannot compete in number of sheep to the mountain grazing states, Wisconsin is one of the leaders in the raising of sheep in small flocks.

A Rock county has several famous sheep farms where pure breeds are raised. One state has 479,591 sheep, which are mostly in the upper peninsula. Michigan has 1,266,756 sheep and Ohio a total of 2,110,559.

The greatest states of Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Nevada all have from 1,500,000 to more than 2,000,000 sheep in each state. Oregon, 2,000,000, Texas leads with 2,500,000. The number of sheep on the farms in the United States January 1, 1920, according to the Bureau of stock census amounted to 12,824,721.

Wisconsin refuses to be greatly interested in the raising of goats, the state having only 2,541.

Wisconsin's agriculture wealth is based on the raising of farm animals, the dairy cow and swine. She leads in the dairy industry and is one of the greatest swine raising states in the Union.

6 REASONS

WHY YOU SHOULD BUILD WITH BRICK

1. It's the perfect building material.

2. It gives individuality in color scheme.

3. It is the most economical—No painting, no cost for repairs. Low insurance. Low fuel bill.

4. It is element proof. "By fire nor frost nor flood nor even time is well burned clay destroyed."

5. It is durable. "The monumental buildings in Babylon were erected 3800 years ago. They were built of brick. Modern cities are being built with the brick today."

6. It is sanitary. It is vermin-proof. It is dampness proof.

There Are Many Other Reasons.
